

PUBLIC MEETING

for the East Oakland Sports Center Public Art Project

To get YOUR input on a large scale public art work to be created at the new Ira Jinkins Recreation Center to be built next year.

The artwork is commissioned through the City of Oakland Public Art Program and funded by Measure DD: The Oakland Trust for Clean Water and Safe Parks

Brookfield Branch Library

9255 Edes Avenue, Oakland, CA 94603

Wednesday, August 6, 2008 @ 1:30 PM

Artists Daniel Galvez and Jos Sances will make a short presentation of past public art work and ask for your input on the new art to be created. The artists focus in public art commissions has been to attain not only a "sense of place" but to make positive visual statements that reflect cultural and community pride.

The approach for the new East Oakland Sports Center is to create multiple artworks unified thematically and exuding energy and excitement. The theme of "Healthy Lifestyles" will be reflective of the local community, the imagery created will be generated through our research and dialogue with the neighborhood residents.

The presentation precedes The Norman Magic Experience at 2:00.

For more Info about the public art, cultural arts programs and/or Measure DD:

Christin Hablewitz, Public Art Project Manager, City of Oakland, phone 510.238.2105, fax 510.238.6341

chablewitz@oaklandnet.com • www.oaklandculturalarts.org

