

INAUGURAL FESTIVAL

Sunday, January 11, 2015 • 3 – 7 pm

American Steel Studios • 1960 Mandela Parkway • West Oakland

Open to the public - Free admission

As part of her inaugural, Oakland's 50th Mayor Libby Schaaf is inviting the public to take part in a community event celebrating the diversity, creativity and maker spirit of Oakland!

- World-renowned vertical dance pioneers BANDALOOP
- Oakland Music Stage with Kev Choice, Bay Area Blues Society and surprise guests!
- Special Guest Emcee: Oakland's own Glynn Washington, host of NPR's Snap Judgment
- Made-in-Oakland industrial sculpture and art car exhibits
- Local filmmakers, fashion designers, craftspeople, dance troupes and fire art
- Aerialists from Kinetic Arts Center

- "Innovation City" hosted by 2.Oakland and the City of Oakland
- Indie business showcase + samplings of Oakland-made specialty foods
- Interactive kids' zone
- Community conversations hosted by West Oakland's Attitudinal Healing Center
- Popular local food vendors + Oakland wine and beer*

... and much more to be announced!

In partnership with:

* available for purchase.