Oakland City Hall Awash in Blue & Gold as Warriors Advance to Game 5 of Semifinals

Oakland, CA — As the Golden State Warriors advance to game five of the NBA Western Conference semifinal series, the City of Oakland has pumped up its lighting display at Oakland City Hall to celebrate the Warriors' thrilling post-season performance.

In addition to the blue and gold lights on the cupola that were installed last month, the façade of the historic building is now illuminated nightly with energy-efficient LED lighting. It's a visual reminder of the City's support and enthusiasm as fans and players prepare for a Warriors victory tonight.

"We're going all out to show our support for the home team," said Mayor Jean Quan. "The Warriors' playoff performance reflects the tenacious, can-do attitude of our city. These blue and gold lights remind everyone that 'Oakland is Warriors Ground.'"
