US Marshals Arrest Oakland Murder Suspect

Oakland, CA – U.S. Marshal Don O’Keefe and Oakland Police Chief Howard Jordan are proud to announce the arrest of Remon McDaniels, wanted for homicide in Oakland, CA.

The United States Marshals Fugitive Task Force, which includes members from the U.S. Marshals, CDC Fugitive Apprehension Team, Oakland Police Department, and San Francisco Police Department, apprehended McDaniels in Pittsburg, CA.

McDaniels was wanted for the homicide of Isaac White, who was shot and killed around 8:45 p.m. on Jan. 4 outside his home in the 1800 block of East 25th Street in East Oakland.

Members of the Task Force developed intelligence that McDaniels was in an apartment in Pittsburg, CA. After positively identifying McDaniels walking to the BART station, members for the team moved in to make the arrest. McDaniels was taken into custody at approximately 3:00pm yesterday afternoon without incident.

The U.S. Marshals Service is the primary federal agency charged with conducting fugitive investigations throughout the United States. The U.S. Marshals Service regularly works in concert with other federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies to seek out and arrest violent fugitives and sex offenders, and has established task forces throughout the nation to facilitate the apprehension of fugitives.
