Police Shave Their Heads to Raise Money

Oakland, CA - For the third straight year, a team of Oakland police officers will participate in the Annual St. Baldrick's fundraiser at Children's Hospital.

On Saturday, March 17, 2012, please come and cheer the officers on as they shave their heads in solidarity with kids fighting cancer and help raise money to support life-saving cancer research. Last year the OPD team ranked the second highest in fundraising.

The St. Baldrick's Foundation is a volunteer-driven charity, committed to funding the most promising research to find cures for childhood cancers, and give survivors long and healthy lives.

The foundation coordinates worldwide head shaving events where volunteers get bald to stand in solidarity with kids fighting cancer and raise money to support life saving cancer research.
